Committee Comments

Rule 12 provides that the appeal is considered to be docketed with the appellate court when the clerk files a copy of the notice of appeal with the clerk of the appellate court, and upon payment of a docket fee of $25.00 as required by subdivision (a) and Rule 3(a). The basic docket fee is set at $25.00. Certain appeals may cost more to process, and the rule provides that the court may set a higher docket fee to defray expenses in that event, e.g., utility and class action appeals may require a higher docket fee. The failure of a party to cause timely completion of the record may result in dismissal of the appeal upon motion. See Rule 2. The time for response to such motions and the form of the motion are to be in conformance with the general rules set out in Rule 27.
